Tai Poutini Polytechnic fuels volunteers

Tai Poutini Polytechnic culinary arts students are kick-starting the day for local volunteers by supporting the police at the annual Blue Light Breakfast.

Staff and students will host around 30 volunteers on Thursday morning (4 September 2014) for the annual breakfast in support of police volunteers. Lunch will also be provided to keep the volunteers fuelled throughout the day.

Culinary Arts Lead Tutor John Lawry says TPP has been involved in the event for the past few years as a way to support the local community.

“These volunteers do a great job in our community, so we want to show our thanks in the best way our culinary arts students know how – through their stomachs. This is a wonderful opportunity for the polytechnic to get involved locally and have our students work directly with the community.”
